At the Alexander

The Alexander theater is this week showing one of the best programs ever presented in Globe. Last night was change night and two large crowds saw the two shows. The management caters to the women and children of Globe who like to see a clean and refined performance and to hear the latest in illustrated songs, and no pains or expense is spared by the management toward this end. The show this week includes a roaring comedy film, "Oh That Limburger," "Runaway Sleighbell," in which rivals race for the village belle, and "Retribution," or the brand of Cain. Two new illustrated songs by C. E. Jennings are above the ordinary.

"COAST OF DEATH" AT DREAMLAND

Those who had the good luck to witness Professor Steele's exhibition at Dreamland last night can congratulate themselves upon having seen the greatest comedy and acrobatic skater of the day.

What stunts he didn't do were not worth doing. What he did do kept the immense crowd convulsed with laughter, while some of his remarkable feats of chair jumping made everyone hold their breath to see where he was going to land. However, the agile professor always landed right side up with care, occasionally working in a dangerous slide on the windup, generally in the direction of a group of pretty girls.

One of his feats was the turning a row of bank handspikes—in show parlance, flip-flops—down the entire length of the rink. Another was jumping over twelve chairs with great ease. On account of not being able to get the coaster ready in time for last night's performance, Professor Steele did not do his famous "Coast of Death." This dangerous feat will positively be attempted tonight, and the management of Dreamland, having witnessed Professor Steele do this great act in Tucson on last Friday night, will give anybody their money back if they witness this act and are not entirely satisfied that they had their money's worth.

The performance will be different every night and while here Professor Steele will race all comers any distance, one race to be run each night.

Performance each evening at 9 o'clock and skating before and after the show.

When you are sick go to the Indian Hot Springs for a while. 233

A Well Earned Vacation
For the first time in thirty-two years Thomas Currow will visit his old home in Connecticut during the latter part of July, says the Republican. Mr. Currow has been away from his native state just that many years and he rightly feels now that it is about time that he was taking a little time off and making a visit to the old home just to see what changes have been made in that length of time. Mr. Currow has lived in the territory for the last twenty-seven years although not all of that time in Tempe. Since coming to Arizona he has managed to get outside of it just twice, when he made short trips to California. He has worked hard most of the time of his residence here and this summer promises to drop everything for a couple of months and get a little enjoyment out of life.
